

UAMS SUPPORTS NEW GRADUATE RNS

At UAMS we invest in our new graduate nurses as they enter the profession by providing opportunities to build their confidence and competency levels.

Consisting of four theme-based courses, the Transition to Practice New Graduate Program is offered during the new graduate's first year of hire. The program is targeted to the progression of needs and growth of the new graduate RN.

The immediate results are improvement in leadership and communications skills and a decrease in stress level and turnover rate. The ultimate benefactors of the program are the patients who receive an increased level of clinical care.

If you want a nursing career where ALL nurses are valued and supported, consider UAMS Nursing.
